Description

The 2006 Robalo 265 WA is a well-regarded walkaround boat designed for those who want a practical mix of offshore fishing ability, comfortable cruising and weekend versatility. Built with Robalo's reputation for sturdy construction, this model is often appreciated by boaters who like the idea of heading out early for a serious day's fishing, then using the same boat for a relaxed afternoon with family or friends. Key highlights typically include:

• Walkaround layout: makes it easier to move safely towards the bow when anchoring, casting or handling lines;
• Fishing-friendly cockpit: often suited to anglers who need space for rods, tackle, coolers and landing a catch;
• Cuddy cabin comfort: provides shelter, seating and useful overnight or day-trip convenience;
• Offshore capability: the deep-vee style hull is commonly valued for handling choppier coastal conditions with confidence;
• Family practicality: features such as seating, storage and weather protection help make it more than just a fishing boat. For buyers considering a used 2006 Robalo 265 WA, it is sensible to review engine hours, service history, electronics, upholstery condition, hull integrity and trailer or lift arrangements, as these details can make a big difference to value and long-term enjoyment.
